Destination Information

In Scandinavia you can rest assured that your every incentive or meeting requirement will not only be fulfilled but surpassed. Sweden, Norway and Denmark offer a clean, healthy environment with fresh air, clean waters and vast areas of virgin wilderness. Scandinavian service culture is warm, friendly, efficient and yet informal. The society is prosperous, secure and well organised with little poverty and few social or cultural tensions.

All Scandinavian countries have a distinguished reputation for hosting superior standard international meetings, conferences and incentive events. An utterly sophisticated infrastructure for transportation, communications and service is fundamental. In addition, the larger cities of Stockholm, Oslo and Copenhagen offer the feeling of small towns with wide selections of shops, museums and highly approved restaurants. And most of it is within walking distance!

Last but not least Scandinavia has a virtually bilingual population and moderate price levels. You are most welcome to arrange your next meeting or incentive program in Scandinavia!
